SENATE VOTING DEFERRED UNTIL FIRST OF WEEK

Still Deadlocked But House About Ready for Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The way was cleared today for house action tomorrow leading to the organization of all its standing committees. The Republicans in conference over the protest of Representative Nelson, Wisconsin, leader of the insurgents approved the assignment given Republicans. Democratic selections already have been made and the two states will be presented to the house by Representative Nelson, Ohio, the majority leader. The insurgents' objection to the personnel of the rules committee, Mr. Nelson said his group would meet tomorrow forenoon to decide whether they would carry their fight to the floor. In any event, it was not expected that they would be able to bring about a situation similar to that obtaining in the senate where there still exists a deadlock over the election of the chairman of the interstate commerce committee.

With further senate voting deferred until Monday, conversations between Republican leaders and the insurgents looking to the election of a Republican as chairman of the committee were continued, apparently without success. While several compromise propositions were put forward some of the insurgents insisted that Senator Smith of South Carolina, the ranking Democrat on the committee would be elected next Monday over Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa.

Nelson Not Satisfied

At the conference of house Republicans today Mr. Nelson said members of this group felt they had not been given satisfactory representation on the important committees. He insisted that the insurgents have a right to demand that they have a voice in drafting of vital legislation.

In addition to approving the committee slate the conference endorsed the proposed creation of a "veterans' committee" which would handle legislation affecting former service men. The proposal previously had been approved by Democratic members of the house.

Mrs. May Nolan, Republican, California, only woman member of the house and widow of former Representative John Nolan, will be the first woman to be chairman of a house committee. She will head the committee on expenditures in the postoffice department and in addition will be a member of the labor committee. She had been given a place also on the woman's suffrage committee, but she declined that assignment.

Assignments Made

Victor Berger of Wisconsin, the one Socialist member of the house, was assigned by Republican leaders to the labor, woman's suffrage and alcoholic liquor traffic committees. Representative Wefald, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, will serve on the invalid, pensions and woman suffrage committees, and Representative Kvale, Independent, Minnesota, will serve on the public buildings and grounds and industrial arts and exhibitions committees.

After adjournment tomorrow the house will recess until Tuesday. Convinced that none of the committees will be able to organize and report on important legislation before the Christmas holidays Mr. Longworth announced to the house today that it was planned to recess from December 21 to January 3.

The men were Abraham Becker, New York wife slayer, and George Hacker and Harry Santello, Binghamton murderers.

JOHNSON OPPOSED TO DELEGATE STRENGTH IN SOUTHERN STATES

Chairman Adams Claims South Got Only Just Deserts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Restoration of the delegate strength of the southern states, by the recent action of the Republican national committee drew fire today from Senator Hiram Johnson, and was defended by Chairman John T. Adams of the Republican national committee.

The situation promises a fight in the Cleveland convention and is the principal one growing out of the recent meeting of the national committee here.

Senator Johnson characterized the committee's action as beyond its powers and "repugnant to every sense of fair dealing and just representation."

Chairman Adams on the other hand defended it as an act of "justice to congressional districts in the south where the Democratic party refuses a free ballot and an honest count to Republicans both black and white."

While Senator Johnson attacked the restoration as a penalty upon Republican states and a reward for southern states, "where there is no Republican party and where delegations come times a farce and a scandal," Chairman Adams defended it by pointing out that the committee's action only added nine delegates to the southern states' quota, while it added 116 delegates as a reward to the states which went for President Harding in 1920.

It has not been determined whether the Johnson organization will carry the fight against the committee's action yesterday to the national convention although Senator Howell of Nebraska, who yesterday fought the committee's decision, believes that this could be done successfully.

Upon receipt of a telegram from South Dakota that Senator Johnson's name was almost certain to be in the South Dakota primary it was announced that Senator Norbeck of South Dakota, would head the Johnson primary candidates. Senator Norbeck will be a candidate for delegate-at-large on the Johnson ticket.

COMMITTEE PROGRAM WILL INCLUDE PLANS FOR INDIAN AFFAIRS

Will Urge Granting of Ap- propriations for Ed- ucation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—A comprehensive program of action for dealing with problems affecting the Indian wards of the government was included in the resolutions committee's report adopted today by the advisory committee of 100 on Indian affairs, the semi-official body named by the secretary of the interior. The resolutions touched among many questions on health education, land leases and Indian dances.

The committee urged the granting by congress of appropriations for education sufficient to secure thru largely increased salaries, teachers of highest ability and training, competent to achieve the mighty task committed to their care.

Establishment of public school systems on reservations equal to those of the white schools and encouragement of religion among the tribes also was recommended.

Proceeds from oil, gas and other mineral rights on executive order reservations would be paid wholly to the Indians under another resolution adopted.

The committee commended the general purpose and spirit of various orders of the Indian commission on dances. The orders were interpreted by members of the committee as discouraging only those undesirable dances which might be considered injurious to morals or otherwise, such as the "give away" dance which often leads to the giving away of the individuals most valuable possessions.

OBREGON STATES REVOLUTION NOT RIGHTLY NAMED

Declares Belief Law and Order Will Soon be Restored

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 13.—Declaring his belief that peace and order soon would be restored to Mexico, President Obregon in a telegram to the El Paso Times received today asserted that "the movements headed by Generals Estrada and Sanchez, and which were inspired by Adolfo de la Huerta, should not be dignified by the term revolution, for their importance does not warrant that designation."

The telegram was as follows: "On Board Special Train, Guajajuato, December 12. "Editor El Paso Times, El Paso Texas.

"It pleases me greatly to give this information to your newspaper.

"The movements headed by Generals Estrada and Sanchez, and which were inspired by Adolfo de la Huerta, should not be dignified by the term revolution, for their importance does not warrant that designation. The great masses of the people have no sympathy with these movements and thousands of men in all walks of life have offered their services to the government to combat treason. I have reason to believe it will be a matter of but a short time when the traitorous military leaders are overthrown and peace and order restored thruout the country. A revolution in Mexico has prospered only when it has been fought by the people in the interest of liberty and against oppressors. Traitors have not a chance to control the government of Mexico today.

"I am in this city of Guajajuato to make a personal inspection of the troops about to depart for Guadalupe to combat the traitorous forces of the traitor, General Estrada. With these troops are some of the most distinguished military leaders of the republic among them the Generals Joaquin Amaro, Luis Gutierrez, J. J. Mendez, Mariano Garza, Rodolfo L. Gallegos, Jose Amarillas, Benigno Serratos Claudio Fox, Andre Figueroa, Anaceto Lopez and Esquirid Rodriguez.

"The troops are in the finest of spirits, enthusiastically loyal to the government, and in my judgment, there can be little doubt of an early and successful issue of the campaign.

(Signed).
"A. Obregon.
"Pres. of Republic."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Officers and members of the Illinois and Wisconsin Coal Dealers' association were cited today to answer charges of using unfair trade methods of competition. They will be given 30 days to show cause why orders to desist from present alleged practices should not be issued.

The acts complained of, a commission statement said, were all committed in endeavors to hinder the business of irregular coal dealers outside the association.

J. B. Sandborn & Co., publishers of a "Blue Book" used in the trade were made respondents in the citation, on the ground of co-operating with the coal dealers' association.

BREAKS JAIL RATHER THAN GO TO PRISON

HAYWARD, Wis., Dec. 13. (AP)—Two prisoners escaped from the county jail here today by sawing their way out of their cells. They are William McCann, convicted of murder and David Wade alleged forger.

After filling the bars of their individual cages, the prisoners crawled down stairs, found the keys for the outside office door and escaped. They walked directly past the court house where court was in session.

McCann made his break for freedom ninety minutes before he was to have started for the Wisconsin state prison at Wau-pun to begin serving time for the murder of Frank Allen.

A posse of 100 men is searching the local woods in an effort to apprehend the fugitives. The wife of the sheriff, whose residence adjoins the jail office, saw the door open and gave the alarm.

Gov. Smith Declared Disquieting Figure

COLRMBUS, O., Dec. 13.—

Governor "Al" Smith of New York was described as a "disquieting figure" by Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York associate president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, at the evening session of the annual meeting of the executive committee of the federal council of the churches tonight. Mr. Poling was comparing the governor of New York with Abraham Lincoln and discussing the question of law observance.

Dr. Poling declared that the man who fails to vote is to be more despised than the corrupt official who levies a tax on a brother or takes hush money from a gambler.

His address was in part as follows:

"The application of this principle of citizenship responsibility has its supreme challenge at the present moment in law enforcement, particularly in prohibition law enforcement. We are listening to an amazing argument in this country that law is responsible for law violation and that because the prohibition law is violated it should be modified or repealed. Our answer to this not less than treasonable fallacy is, the constitution of the United States provides a way to repeal amendments as well as to enact them. And to the enemies of prohibition we say: 'Come out in the open modify or repeal if you can, but observe and enforce until you can.'

"The governor of New York, who has been quoted as saying of the Volstead act, 'we do not like that law,' is a disquieting figure indeed when compared with Abraham Lincoln who declared 'let reverence for the law be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap, let it become the political religion of the nation, let every American, every lover of liberty, every well wisher of his posterity swear by the blood of the revolution never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country and never to tolerate their violation by others.'

"The great imperative of the hour is a new citizenship conscience with regard to law enforcement and law observance. Such a conscience has its ultimate expression at the polls."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE ENCOURAGES PRIVATE RELIEF FOR GERMANS

Former Statement Miscon- strued in Many Lo- calities

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—President Coolidge thru Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin announced tonight that the administration approves and desires to encourage to the utmost private charity for the relief of the German people.

Senator Lenroot, after two conferences during the day with the president on the question of German relief, sent this telegram to A. C. Backus of Milwaukee, chairman of the committee in charge of the German relief campaign in Wisconsin.

"In the newspaper conference of December 11 President Coolidge urged the newspaper reporters not to say anything that would result in drying up the private charity that is being encouraged and further stated: 'It is very desirable that the private charity that is being organized should go on. It is under the direction of such men as General Allen (Major General Henry T. Allen) and I believe, General Dawes (Charles G. Dawes, former director of the budget), who is the director in his region, and other men of like caliber; and of course, we are very much desirous that it should go on.' Any statement contrary to this is a misrepresentation of the position of President Coolidge."

Mr. Coolidge at the same newspaper conference said that referred to in the telegram let it be known that any plan for government plan relief for Germany should be on a business basis and this expression of his view was misinterpreted in some parts of the country as opposed to the efforts of private charity.

The German relief situation was understood to have been discussed by the president today with Secretary Hoover also.

Senator Lenroot after talking over the situation with the president announced he would withhold request for action on his bill to appropriate $20,000,000 for German food relief pending efforts to bring about an international food loan.

Mr. Lenroot said the loan was much more desirable as it would adequately meet the situation.

300 MOTORISTS ARE MAROONED BY SNOW

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 13.—Approximately 300 motorists are marooned by snow in Nogal Canyon 25 miles from San Marcial, N. M., according to a long distance telephone appeal for help received here today by the Denver Post. Snow was 20 feet deep in some places, according to the message.

The Post quoted J. G. Cartwright of Winnie, Canada, as having made the appeal from San Marcial. Two men whom Cartwright said gave their names as D. M. Blackmore, of Los Angeles, Calif., and James Chestnut, of North Dakota, brought word of the conditions in Nogal Canyon.

"The reported suffering of the snow bound motorists is terrible," Cartwright is quoted as saying and women and children in the party are in need of medical attention. "Food, nurses, a few doctors and men to open up the road to the canyon are needed."

CEMENT MAKERS ASSN. DISSOLVED BY JUDGE KNOX

Atty. General Daugherty Approves Decree Issued

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Federal Judge Knox today signed a decree dissolving the cement Manufacturers' Protective association.

On October 23, Judge Knox ordered dissolution of the association on the ground that it operated in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. His decision was reached after extended litigation by the government. In his order, the judge extended the dissolution to include all the corporate and individual members of the association.

He also ordered the association to discontinue the practice of interchanging statistics regarding production and granted all other decrees sought by the government.

Daugherty Approves

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The decree signed by Judge Knox in New York dissolving the Cement Manufacturers' Protective association was viewed by Attorney General Daugherty tonight as laying down the "most comprehensive and definite code of business ethics with respect to trade associations on any case yet arising under the anti-trust laws."

"An effort has been made," Attorney General Daugherty said to meet the demands of the business interests of the country for a decree which would be equitable and fair in all respects.

"Just as the Standard Oil and tobacco cases are recognized as landmarks in the law with respect to combinations brought about by consolidations, so will the cement decree serve as a guiding principle by which trade associations and the members thereof must be governed in their future activities."

Holding the association, whose membership includes the principal cement manufacturers of the country, to be an unlawful combination in restraint of trade the decree enjoins the defendant committees from effecting any similar combination or organization having the same purpose and effect."

Among other association practices enjoined are the practices of "union mill base prices" and "arbitrary freight basing points other than the points from which shipments are actually made."

In connection with the latter restraint the defendants also are enjoined from selling their product "f. o. b. point of delivery exclusively."

Among other practices enjoined in the decree include establishment of "uniform rates of discount or uniform terms for payment of bills" and suggesting the amount of commission or profit dealers should be required to make; regulating or limiting the production of cement or the amount of stock to be kept on hand.

BERLIN GOVERNMENT WANTS AMERICA IN REPARATIONS PARLEY

Rumored Germany Not to Have Representative on Board

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—Correspondence which led to action by the American government favorable to American representation in the expert commission on German financial questions to be created by the reparations commission was made public simultaneously today in Washington and Paris. The Washington government has understood that Germany is not to be represented on either of these inquiry commissions. That is a question to be decided in Paris, however, and in view of the communications from Dr. Wiedefeldt, German ambassador to Secretary Hughes also made public today and urging that American experts be given the sanction of their government to accept membership on the commission which will deal with German budget and currency matters, it is felt that whatever arrangement is made by the reparations commission has already the approval of the Berlin government.

No additional information with respect to the detailed plan of the reparations commission for proceedings of the inquiry committee reached the state department today. It was understood the commission has expected to thrash that question out fully at an early date and that included in its arrangements will be considered of the extent to which the various committee members will need additional technical help in the way of expert staffs.

The reparations commission already has at its disposal a vast amount of information on every phase of the reparations questions. It was described today as a "reservoir" of data upon the subject of data bank, however. It is also reported studies may be made along some lines to satisfy the international experts.

Complete reticence again marked official circles with respect to the probable selection of American members of the expert committees. No inkling was given however, as to whether the Washington government has as yet considered the preparation of a list of American experts regarded as eligible for the post.

Willis Booth, New York banker and president of the International Chamber of Commerce, one of the Americans mentioned in Paris dispatches for possible membership on the expert committees conferred with Secretary Hughes today but returned to New York following the interview.

THREE KILLED WHEN GASOLINE SPEEDER AND ENGINE COLLIDE

Victims Were All Linemen Employed by Western Union

LAPORTE, Ind., Dec. 13.—Three men were killed and seven injured, three seriously, when a New York Central switch engine and a gasoline speeder collided six miles west of here tonight.

The dead are:

John Lendley, 24, Marshall, Illinois; Frank Wright, 20, Le Roy, Kansas; William Melbourne, 18, Joliet, Illinois.

Those seriously hurt are:

William Pierce, 45, Patoka, Indiana; Olive Meyers, 20, Tennyson, Ind., and Paul Brunner, 20, Patoka, Indiana.

The other four men, whose names could not be learned, sustained minor cuts and bruises. All of the victims were linemen employed by the Western Union Telegraph company and were riding on the speeder. They were returning to Laporte, from Otis, Indiana, when the accident occurred.

Edward Keeney of Joliet, Illinois, foreman of the linemen, said he saw the train approaching around a curve, but believed it to be on another track. As the engine bore down on the speeder most of them jumped, he said, but several were under a tarpaulin which had been spread over them as a protection against the wind and did not hear their companions' warning shouts.

Farmers living near where the accident occurred, cared for the injured until physicians and ambulances arrived.

BANDITS KILL MERCHANT WHO OFFERS RESISTANCE

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 13.—Two negro bandits tonight shot and killed Andrew J. Jones, 50, a merchant at Wrightsville, 12 miles south of this city, looted the store and made their escape, according to reports received by the sheriff's office here.

Jones' 12 year old son witnessed the killing, according to the report. He told officers that his father was killed when he offered resistance to the robbers.

Officers have been sent from here to aid a posse of citizens which was reported to be forming at Wrightsville in a search for the two negroes.

RADIO USED IN EFFORT TO FIND MISSING CROOK

Believed Either Air- plane or Fast Motor boat Was Used

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—All known means of communication including radio were employed by state and federal authorities today in following two clues which they hope will enable them to locate Leo Koretz, who is missing from Chicago after an alleged swindle said to be the most amazing ever accomplished in the middle west.

According to investigators, Koretz, known as a lawyer, financier and philanthropist, defrauded investors in a Central American oil venture of funds which it was said may reach $5,000,000. Already losses estimated at $2,000,000 have been reported, the authorities said. The two clues advanced today were that Koretz either is in the Atlantic in a speedy motor boat, or that he is on his way to Honduras in an airplane.

The last appearance of Koretz known to the authorities was in New York on December 5, when he checked out of a prominent hotel.

Part of Money Found

Announcement was made by State's Attorney Crowe late today that relatives of Koretz had volunteered to turn over for the benefit of the creditors $200,000 which had been given to them by the financier during the last few weeks.

Announcement also was made that Miss Sara Mandull, a former school teacher who gave up her profession to help sales in the Koretz organizations would turn over $25,000 which the missing man gave her a short time ago, telling her that the money represented dividends on stock which she herself had purchased.

Mrs. Koretz and her two children are living in a luxurious home but have little money, according to Mrs. Koretz. Mr. Koretz' mother who was reported to have invested her entire fortune in her son's enterprises is reported to be in a serious condition as the result of a nervous breakdown.

A survey of a suite maintained by Koretz in an expensive hotel here was part of the authorities' investigation. Thirty-nine bottles of assorted liquors, technical works on art, written in French, Italian, Spanish and German, several volumes of Shakespeare and other famous operas were found.

Dr. M. Eisenstadt, a life long friend of the missing financier said that Koretz had paid dividends on stocks promptly each month for ten years, making his customers investments seem so profitable that they reinvested their dividends.

Some doubt was cast late today on the belief that Koretz had left the United States by way of New York. Some of those who conferred with the state's attorney said there were rumors that a yacht had been waiting for him at Vancouver and that he had left by way of the Canadian border. Telegrams were sent to the police at Vancouver, Seattle and San Francisco.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

Correspondence relating to the reparations question was made public by the state department.

It was disclosed that the American government is watching developments in the Bergdahl kidnapping case but has found no ground for interference.

With the senate in recess leaders tried in vain for settlement of the deadlock over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee.

Th Coolidge administration it was announced wants to encourage private charity for relief of the German people.

Assignments given Republicans to committees of the house were approved at a party conference, clearing the way for organization of all standing committees.

The soldiers' bonus bill, vetoed by President Harding, was reintroduced by Representative McKenzie, Republican, Illinois, on request of the Republicans.

Reestablishment of the American consulate at Newcastle, it was announced is awaiting ex- operation by the British government of Consul Brooks and Vice-Consul Slater.

The new appointment plan for the 1924 Republican convention was attacked in a statement by Senator Johnson of California and defended in a statement by Chairman Adams of the national committee.

A THOUGHT

He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack; but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.—Prov. 28:27.

The miser, poor fool, not only starves his body, but also his own soul.—Theodore Parker.

George Brennan, described as the biggest single Democratic power in Illinois, has declared that Judge Norman Jones is his personal choice as the Democratic nominee for governor. Again Mr. Brennan has shown his good judgment.

The Kiwanis club banquet for football players of various institutions held last night was a very successful event. The Kiwanis club has performed a real service in establishing these dinner events for the players. The number attending each year is increasing rapidly and the football dinner should be made a community affair.

For it certainly has a distinctive influence in building up community spirit. Other organizations might well join with Kiwanis in the role of host.

TO SOFTEN THE ARTERIES

It has been said recently that nearly all human diseases have yielded to medical science except the characteristic old-age disease, arterio-sclerosis. Arteries hardened as age comes on, earlier with some persons and later with others. A physician says that "a man is just as old as his arteries." It has long been recognized that if the blood vessels could be made elastic again, it would mean a virtual renewal of youth, or at least of middle age.

Now a scientist bearing the name of Vladimir Madejowski, connected with a university in Prague, Bohemia, announces that he has found a method which will accomplish this very thing. His remedy is said to consist of silicic acid, combined with extract of a plant called drosera, in the form of a syrup. This syrup, taken internally, is credited already with success in nearly 100 cases.

The discovery, like all others in the domain of medicine, is to be regarded doubtfully until conclusively proved. It may turn out to do what is claimed for it. If it does, it may add years to the average human life.

PRACTICAL POLICIES

In forming political ideas, you can either be governed largely by practical experience, or by theoretical ideas. It has generally been the characteristic of the Republican party, to give a lot of weight to common sense and practical experience, while the Democratic party has been more swayed by theoretical conceptions.

On the matter of the tariff, for instance, Republicans will argue that business depressions have usually followed the enactment of a low tariff. Also it seems common sense, that if you buy goods in foreign countries instead of at home, you are going to throw out of work the people who formerly made them at home, or else force them to work for the very low pay to compete with European labor. No arguments that the Democrats can bring out of their free trade theory books should offset such plain and practical considerations. On the matter of taxation, it should be common sense that a general lightening of taxation for all classes of taxpayers ought to encourage business men to show enterprise and keep labor employed.

On the railroads, it would seem good common sense to give them a chance to work out of their difficulties without too much interference. They are spending a lot of money to improve their service. Their rates may need adjustment so as not to bear so heavily on the farmers' products, but they are not making a great deal of money, and common sense would say that they ought to have a chance to make good. Republican policy will say that we need less theory in government, and more plain hard work and economy on the part of the people. The wonderful gains already made under Presidents Harding and Coolidge demonstrate that these conceptions are practical.

Time is opportunity.

JUNIOR RECITAL AT I. W. C. LAST NIGHT

The annual pre-holiday series of junior recitals of the college of Music I. W. C. was inaugurated last night, when an interested audience gave close attention to an interesting program, played by nineteen students.

Three departments of the College of Music, viz: the piano, the violin and the organ departments, presented candidates for public favor. The numbers generally evidenced careful preparation and unusual poise.

Public appearance should be a part of a student's education. It is evident from the work of this initial program and the promise of the two remaining numbers of this series, that this important educational feature is not despised by the school in which these young ladies are being so well developed. The future of these young people will be of roseate hue musically if they continue in the present paths.

J. R. MAWSON'S FUNERAL HELD THURSDAY

Services for Long Time Resident at Central Christian Church with Large Attendance

Funeral services for John R. Mawson, prominent citizen of Morgan county were held at the Central Christian church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. M. L. Pontius officiating. The auditorium was filled with friends and relatives who came to pay the final tribute to Mr. Mawson's memory, several coming from the Murrayville community where he was formerly a resident.

Rev. Mr. Pontius took for his text, "A Good Soldier of Jesus Christ." II Timothy 2:3. In part he said: "Mr. Mawson was a good soldier of his country. He served as a soldier during the entire period of the Civil War. He was honorably discharged from the United States Army and was an active member in the Grand Army of the Republic. He was a firm advocate of justice; he loved the nation of which he was a part, and always evidenced a patriotic attitude toward all questions and problems affecting our republic. A man who will serve his country during the period of civil strife with unflinching loyalty is a good soldier."

"Mr. Mawson was a good soldier in the community. For 50 years following the Civil War he assisted in making the community in which he lived what he thought it should be. He was loyal to every great community movement. He believed in the patriotism of peace. Each person in this large audience will bear testimony to the fact that he was a good citizen."

"Mr. Mawson was a good soldier of Jesus Christ. He was a faithful member of the church. He lived a prayerful, consistent Christian life. He was found regularly in the church service and always indicated his interest and appreciation. His life stands as a quiet, but very effective testimony to the great religious values revealed and bestowed thru the influence of the church. He was very devoted to his family. He gave a most beautiful exemplification of genuine Christian love in his care for his invalid wife. He will be remembered and loved for many years because of the considerate helpful influences which he caused to flow from his life into the lives of others. It is very appropriate that this service should close with a tribute from his comrades in the conflict of the sixties."

At the close of the service the members of the local post of the G. A. R. administered their impressive rites in memory of their comrade.

The music was furnished by Miss Lois Harney, Miss Fern Haigh, Charles A. Rowe and Charles L. Mathis. The many beautiful tributes were cared for by Mrs. Carrie Mackness Janopoulo, Misses Sciota Bergschneider, Georgia Mawson, Pauline Sadler and Ruth Hembrough.

The bearers were Herbert Mawson, Roscoe Mawson, Edward Hembrough, Leslie Lewis, Frank Ransan and Orville Coultas. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

CLAIM IS MADE THAT KLAN PUBLICITY MAN WAS UNDER DELUSION

Slayer of Coburn Was Unbalanced at Time of Tragedy

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 13. (A.P.)—A delusion caused Philip E.

Fox, publicity chief of the Ku Klux Klan, to kill William S. Coburn, counsel for an insurance company, the defense contended today in the trial of Fox here. For 12 years this delusion has grown upon the mind of the defendant and today he is mentally unbalanced, his counsel told the jury.

Believing his best friends were his enemies, as defense witnesses testified, Mrs. Heyman, of Cleveland, who was visiting here, said that Fox entered Coburn's office here on November 5, in this frame of mind, jerked his gun from his pocket and fired five shots at the Klan counsel.

"We expect to show you that this was the act of a crazy man, and because of that we will ask you to return a verdict of not guilty," was the defense statement to the jury.

The plea was made and witnesses were placed upon the stand to describe Fox's hallucinations after the state had rested. The prosecution only called upon 12 of its many witnesses indicating that it will attempt to establish the motive in rebuttal.

Insanity in Family

Thru Dr. Charles W. Duffield, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church in Boston, Mass., in whose parish Fox and his family were members in 1906, the defense presented evidence tending to show traces of insanity in the defendant's family.

Spearman Webb of Denton, Texas, formerly associated with Fox in the newspaper business in Dallas, Texas, declared the defendant told him 12 years ago he lived in constant dread of going insane.

Bradley B. Hogue, editor of the Dallas, Texas, Times-Herald on which newspaper Fox is said to have climbed the ladder from reporter to managing editor, told the jury that Fox at the height of a brilliant newspaper career suffered a general breakdown in health.

His first breakdown occurred in 1916, Mr. Hogue testified, but in 1918 he suffered a general collapse following an attack of influenza.

Mr. Hogue told of his friendship for Fox and then recited that he was informed by Fox that "you are my enemy. You are trying to get rid of me."

Mr. Hogue declared Fox left his employ on his own accord to accept a position with the Ku Klux Klan, by which, Fox told him, he was bettering himself financially.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO COLLECT FUNDS ALREADY PROMISED

Rent for Convention Hall is Fixed at One Dollar

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 13.—Plans for the collection of the $125,000 subscribed to finance the Republican national convention, which will be held here the week of June 10, will be put under way immediately by Colonel Carmi A. Thompson, chairman of the Cleveland convention committee on his return from Washington tomorrow.

Thompson's first step, it was said, will be to form a large general committee of 100 members composed of civic and political leaders.

At the same time, managers of the principal hotels will meet to discuss reservations for the convention.

"None of us are making any reservations until delegates, alternates and newspapermen are cared for," Roscoe J. Timmons, hotel men's representative said.

Thomas E. Monks, treasurer of the local committee on arrangements, announced he would issue an immediate request to all subscribers to the $125,000 convention fund for the cash.

It is estimated the cost of staging the convention will run considerably above $125,000.

The additional cost will be raised by the national committee.

Rental of the convention hall cost only one dollar. When Cleveland was first mentioned it was decided to donate the use of the hall. Then Mayor Kohler declared that under the rules governing the management of the hall a charge must be made. The mayor paid it.

PACKERS DEVELOP AMAZING USAGES FOR BY-PRODUCTS

Many Unique and Interesting Uses Found for Every Part of Animal

WASHINGTON, (A. P.)—"A use for everything but the squeal" is still the motto of the meat packing industry, and truer than ever before, but there is more than that to it, says the Institute of American Meat Packers. Not only are many unique and interesting uses found for every part of the slaughtered animal, but the by-products industry, as a financial proposition, rapidly is growing in importance.

The hides and bones long have furnished important returns in the shape of leathers and fertilizers, but the bones now have an important use also for medical purposes. Blood is one of the first important by-products, and serum, for use in research work as a culture for growing bacteria, is obtained by separating the corpuscles from the blood. In dry form the serum is also used to clear the composition used in coating photographic papers.

Blood albumen is used in the manufacture of water-proof glue for veneer work, aeroplane wings and other special uses. Blood from which the fibrin has been removed is employed to set colors in gingham and other cotton goods. Leucocytic extract is made from the white corpuscles and is injected in human veins to stimulate production of these corpuscles. Blood cooked, pressed dried and ground to powder is a specific for "scours" to which calves fed on skimmed milk are subject. Tanners use it as a surface filler for some kinds of leather, and it is used in plaster as an agent to prevent setting or hardening too quickly.

Sheep skin finds its way into the market as "chamois skin," and is also used for belts, hat bands, upholstery and other fancy uses. Hog hair is especially sought for cushion stuffing by automobile and furniture manufacturers. The fine hairs from the interior of the ears of cattle are a satisfactory high grade substitute for the camel's hair used in artists' brushes.

Wool recovered from the washed belts of slaughtered sheep is bought by manufacturers of shoddy to be worked in with wool recovered from old woolen rags to give it life. The grease recovered in the washing, when purified and prepared, is used extensively as a base for ointments and cold creams because it does not irritate the skin.

The best horns and hoofs are softened in steam, split and pressed into sheets from which are cut combs, buttons, boxes, handles and many other articles. The sawdust from cuttings finally becomes a fertilizer known as hoof meal. The inner portion of the hoof gives up the substance from which are made glue and neat's foot oil. From skin and other bones of fine texture, handles for cutlery, pipe stems, dice, chess men, electrical bushings, artificial teeth, crochet needles, bone rings for nursing bottles, and other smaller articles are produced. Some are carved and dyed to resemble stag horn.

Red bone-marrow is a preparation given by physicians for anemia; to make it palatable it is combined with chocolate or held in solution in alcoholic liquids. Bone charcoal is used in sugar refining and in manufacture of black pigment for paints and shoe-blackening. Some bones are prepared into what is known as case-hardening bone, used by manufacturers for hardening ball bearings and other steel products and for bluing rifle and revolver barrels.

Head bones, ears, and the interior of horns and hoofs become glue, but glue made from hides is the better, having greater strength and adhesive qualities. Bone glue, too, is used in the preparation of gummed paper and as a filler or size for glazed paper in making matches, calcimine, fly paper, etc.

Gelatine, in the better grades, is obtained from the cleaned pates of calves, and is used for fancy desert dishes, as a stabilizer for ice cream, and in the manufacture of sensitized photographic plates.

The thyroid, parathyroid, adrenal, and other ductless glands furnish preparations widely used now in medicine. Adrenalin, or epinephrin is a powerful astringent and heart stimulant and is highly valued, costing now about $400 an ounce; but more than 130,000 sheep are required to furnish a pound of adrenalin.

Pepsin, prepared as a digestant, is obtained from the linings of hogs' stomachs. "Catgut" comes not from cats but is obtained from the first 24 feet of the sheep's intestine, and is used for surgical sutures, drum snares, tennis racket strings, and musical instrument strings.

ROOSEVELT DAM HAS RIVAL IN KENTUCKY

High Bridge, Ky., (A.P.)—Construction has been commenced of the Dix River dam, near here, which when completed will surpass the Roosevelt dam in Arizona, according to engineers. It will be larger and will be capable of developing 30,000 horsepower as compared with 23,000 horsepower of the Roosevelt dam.

For the last 14 years engineers of international reputation have acclaimed the location an ideal place to build a dam.

The project, when completed about February 1, 1925, will tower 270 feet between the rugged cliffs of Dix river gorge and will be the highest dam east of the Rocky Mountains. It is announced. The cost will be $7,000,000. More than 1,600,000 cubic yards of material will be used in its construction. It will be 700 feet thick at the base, tapering to 24 feet, and 760 feet wide at the top. Its backwater will form a lake 36 miles long, storing approximately 6,000,000,000 cubic feet of water. Scientific calculations were made for 12 years by prominent

LABOR UNION OFFICIAL SAYS PEPGEN HELPED HIM

Secretary of Miners Union Gains Twelve Pounds—Had Tried Everything Without Success. Was Ready to Move to a Different Climate.

Charles Dickson, secretary of Miners Union Local 492 and a resident of Springfield for 25 years, resides at 1005 North Lincoln St. He is probably known personally by more people than any other citizen of Springfield.

Mr. Dickson made the following statement:

"Three years ago I had a terrible attack of the 'flu' which left me in a badly run down condition of health, from which I didn't seem able to recover. As time passed on I developed catarrh. In mornings at times I coughed for half an hour before I could eat a bite of breakfast. What little food my stomach was able to retain didn't agree with me. I felt weak and tired all the time.

"Try as I might I couldn't gain strength. I was nervous and restless and couldn't sleep soundly. Finally I had to 'lay off' from work. I couldn't keep going.

"I spent much money seeking relief but all to no avail. I was advised by medical authorities to move to a different climate. Some said there was great danger of my case running into tubercular trouble.

"As a last resort I tried Pepgen and I want to say in all truthfulness that Pepgen deserves more credit than I am able to give it for my complete recovery.

"Yes, Pepgen restored my health and put me in such good condition that I was able to resume my work at the mine. In four weeks from the time I started to take the medicine I gained exactly twelve pounds. I have a splendid appetite and everything tastes fine. That tired, weak feeling has entirely disappeared. I sleep soundly at night and get up feeling refreshed and in shape for a day's work at the mine."

Pepgen is obtainable in Jacksonville only at the Coover Drug Co. It can also be secured at one drug store in each nearby town. "Look for the Pepgen Sign."

PARASITES USED TO KILL CORN BORER

Urbana.—Two thousand minute wasp like parasites which are known to feed on the European corn borer, have been imported from Europe by Illinois scientists and placed in fields near Urbana, Jacksonville, Centralia and Aurora, to await an expected invasion of Illinois by the borer, according to officials of the agricultural experiment station, University of Illinois. The parasite, known to scientists as Harborthia, also feeds on the smart weed borer, which is common in Illinois. The experiment station is relying on these smart weed borers to keep the parasite alive until the corn borer arrives in Illinois.

THREE GENTLEMEN

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois Historical Society

There may have been sixteen or sixty handsome or well dressed men in Jacksonville fifty years or a little less ago, but the writer will not refer to all of them, if he had known them, especially since he is writing in Chicago and not in the Athens of the West.

Lewis Hatfield.
It was not difficult to remember Lewis Hatfield, for he was fully, if not more than, six feet in height and always nicely dressed in clothes of good quality and fitting colors.

To those who did not know Mr. Hatfield it may be said that he was an ardent republican and a kind friend to the colored people, who were comparatively numerous in Jacksonville "before the war."

He built the handsome block at the northeast corner of Court and Sandy streets, where Myers Brothers are now. He kept a boot and shoe store there at one time. He also built for his family residence the handsome house on South Diamond street, east side, just south of the brook, which has become Maplewood sanatorium under Dr. F. P. Norbury management.

He lived till a good old age, and was a handsome man, active and alert beyond most of his age. He was the father of one son, Lewis H. Hatfield, who became a lawyer in Kansas City, Mo., and died young; and of several daughters. Another son was Elmer E. Hatfield of West State street, now a well known business man here.

One of Mr. Hatfield's daughters married H. J. Ketcham, long at the bar here, and latterly a resident of Kansas City, Mo., where he and Lewis H. Hatfield practiced law together.

Mr. Hatfield, Sr., came here at a comparatively early day and devoted the hard of town trustees at one time. One would hardly think of him as an old man he carried his age so well.

Judge Henry B. McClure

Mr. McClure came to Jacksonville in the "thirties" and became a leading lawyer here, and a prominent man in several respects. As all of the three referred to in this article, he was six feet or more in height and had flashing dark eyes. He married a sister of the great Dr. Truman M. Post of St. Louis, latterly, but a Congregational minister and member of the faculty of Illinois college for years and was in his old age, a strikingly noticeable man in appearance, crowned with gray hair and bright face.

Judge McClure lived, at least from 1857, to the time of his death, at the southeast corner of College avenue and Prospect street.

Mr. and Mrs. McClure were the parents of one daughter, Miss Libbie, who was married to Henry Stryker, Jr., also a well known lawyer here in 1866.

After the death of Mr. and Mrs. McClure the Strykers took the McClure house which was their residence to the end of their days.

The writer is not sure of Mr. McClure's birthplace, but thinks it was in Vermont. At any rate, he and his wife were natives of New England. Mrs. McClure was a lady of elegant appearance, tall and stately and carried her ladyhood with graceful elegance.

The McClures were members of the Episcopal church, in which Mr. McClure was an officer.

Joshua Moore.

When William Penn "crossed the seas over" about 1682, Benjamin Moore and a brother were among the state builders who came with him. They were the sons of Sir John Moore of England, and Benjamin at least had many descendants in this country. Joshua Moore being one. Joshua Moore was born near Mt. Holly, New Jersey, in 1806, or '07, and raised among the Friends in New Jersey. In about 1830, Mr. Moore went into the dry goods business at the southwest corner of Second and Vine streets, Philadelphia, Pa. In 1832 he made a trip partly on horseback and partly in a "Dearborn" (carriage) to Logansport, Ind.

He came west in 1835, and did business for a short time in St. Louis, Mo., and Beardstown, Ill., then went to Naples, Ill., and in 1842 went to Perry, Pike county, and came here in 1857.

He was married in the "Duncan House" on the south side of the square two doors east of South Sandy street, in December, 1841, to Miss Margaret McMackin, a native of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, of a distinguished family of Lancaster county and of Wilmington, Delaware.

Mr. Moore was in business in Perry and in Naples, Hon. Royal Moores being a partner in Naples Ill 1857, when he came to Jacksonville; purchasing the Henry Owsley house on West State St. Mr. Moore was a member of, and officer in the Presbyterian church in Perry and both an officer in the "First Church" here and in Westminster church. He was a trustee and elder in Westminster and a trustee of Illinois college.

In manner, high stepping, six feet high and a good dresser, Mr. Moore was the peer of the other two.

Football Banquet Is Great Success

Anyone passing the Central Christian in the early hours of last evening might have thought that most of the unearthly sounds in the universe had broken loose in the basement of that institution. So it might have seemed to the uninitiated, but to the more than two hundred guests attending the annual football banquet under the auspices of the Kiwanis club, the sounds meant that all present were having the time of their lives. The Kiwanians had generously provided, along with an excellent banquet, every conceivable form of noise-making device, and these were freely used by the seventy or more athletes who were guests of the club.

The ladies of the church served a banquet that would amply satisfy the appetite of the most hungry football player coming in after a hard game. Baked chicken, dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, spring salad, and ice cream with two kinds of cake made up the principal part of the menu. As the banqueters reached the dessert, the Illinois college team broke out in an enthusiastic yell: "Hey, Kiwanians! Some Banquet! Oh, Boy!"

Pennants for the schools represented were hung above the tables seating the teams. When the dinner was ended, C. Y. Rowe, called the assembly to order, and every member of every team was introduced to the audience, with appropriate remarks from the coach. In the absence of Coach W. T. Harmon, who is attending a meeting of coaches in Peoria, the introduction for the Illinois college team was given by Bill Roberts, Coach Roby Burns spoke for the School for the Deaf, with Miss Grace Hazenstab interpreting. Coach John E. Coonan spoke briefly for Routh High, and C. Y. Rowe announced the names of the team members. Coach John Mitchell introduced the members of the high school team. As each football letter man was called, he stood in his place and was cheered by the audience.

Next President Rowe announced names of an all star football team from among the athletes, giving a humorous description of each one, and announcing as coach Mayor Crabtree.

William A. Berryman led the songs, which were frequent and lively during the early part of the program. After the men had been introduced, Miss Hazenstab announced that the boys from the School for the Deaf wished to take a few minutes. They presented the Kiwanis club with a football, in honor of the occasion, and as a mark of appreciation for the good time they were having.

The meeting was then turned over to Mr. Berryman, who presided as chairman of the evening's entertainment. He proceeded to pick an all-star Kiwanis football team, humorously describing each man chosen, according to the position he was to occupy. As coach he announced George T. Stafford of Champlain, about whom those present were not learn more later. Mr. Berryman then introduced the Illinois College Minstrels, who entertained the audience in a rollicking way for sometime. A number of well-aimed jokes, snappy songs and laughable antics of the black-face comedians kept the audience in a roar.

When the minstrel program closed, the chairman introduced Mayor Crabtree, who talked to the athletes on team work.

As the final speaker on the program, the chairman introduced ced with well taken remarks, George T. Stafford, instructor in corrective gymnastics at the University of Illinois. Mr. Stafford is a smooth speaker, and says what he has to say in a plain and interesting manner.

He stated that the people of this generation are not as strong physically as those of 25 to 50 years ago. We are soft and the most of us are physically defective. The people of a past generation walked, swam and exercised at their work in a way to keep them healthy. They ate simple food. Today we lead a more sedentary life, walk little, and eat too much. We have come to look upon ourselves as a nation of champions, whereas only a small minority are physically fit.

We thought the thirty percent of defective youth in the land as revealed by the draft, was shocking; but government figures show that fifty-three percent of those examined were physically unfit to represent the flag.

The speaker said that altho the infant mortality had been decreased in the last few years, the death rate of those between the ages of forty and fifty had shown a marked increase. It appears that the man in active life so violates the laws of health that when he reaches the age when he should be producing his best, he is physically bankrupt. This is poor business economy. Much time is taken for education, and after the man gets into business, it is some years before he is actively producing for his community. Then to kill him in his prime shows a waste of life that is alarming. Corrective gymnastics have shown the college to be a sort of repair shop, in which students hope to get back their health. When a perfect specimen of physical manhood comes up for examination in the college he is looked upon with pride and wonder. The efficiency and happiness of future generations depends on the health of the youth of today.

Following is a list of letter men who were guests at the banquet:

BANKERS ATTENDED DINNER CONFERENCE

Meeting of Morgan-Scott Association Brought Group of Fifty Together — Discussed Themes Relating to Banking and General Business.

Jacksonville Bankers served as hosts at a dinner given by the Morgan-Scott county Federation of Bankers at Colonial Inn last night. There were twenty banks in the two counties and all of them were represented at this gathering, which numbered fifty or more.

An unusually fine dinner was served at 7 o'clock and afterward a program of talks was given with M. F. Dunlap, president of the federation, presiding. Mr. Dunlap as a preface to the program referred to the organization of the banks of the two counties and the possibilities in the way of mutual helpfulness among the banks. Then he discussed some present day affairs which are vital in their relationship to the business of banking, and of the nation. Some of the advantages and defects of the federal reserve system were outlined and a summary of the railroad situation was given.

Mr. Dunlap also referred to the dangerous propaganda that is fostered by the radicals in congress, propaganda which is wholly unrelated to sound business and which really gives the people misinformation instead of facts relating to the business situation.

Some of the problems of the farmer were also presented and in a comparatively brief time the chairman gave a resume of the present financial and business situation which furnished his auditors something new to think about.

The first speaker introduced was Judge H. L. Chapman of Jerseyville, who is chairman of Group 8 of the Illinois Bankers' Association. Judge Chapman said that a bank is so much a quasi-public institution as is a railroad or an electric plant, and that the real business of a bank is to serve the public to sell it thrift, business promptness and other things as greatly needed.

In emphasizing the influence of the banker in his community Judge Chapman said: "The greatest single influence in any country town or in any city is the bank and as the bank or banker thinks, so are affairs in that city. The one great purpose of the Illinois Banking association is to help bankers adjust their vision. One of the first things you and I need to do is to learn not to misconstrue the purposes and doings of our fellow bankers."

Then the speaker went on to explain in detail the various departments of the Illinois Bankers' association and the service that it is able to render to the member banks.

F. M. Condit of Beardstown, who is chairman of the educational committee, was unable to be present and the chairman introduced in his place W. B. Whitlock, who is in charge of the banking and loan department of the state auditor's office and has been in the office for the past 18 years. Mr. Whitlock gave some very interesting figures to show the remarkable growth of the banking and loan business of the state and still other figures to show the good record of the banks of Illinois by comparison with some other states.

The Farmers' Trusts. H. O. Tunkison of White Hall is chairman of the county federation committee of the Illinois Bankers' association and the theme assigned for his talk was "County Federations." Mr. Tunkison gave emphasis to the advantages that come to banks thru the discussion of the subjects which are of vital interest to the conduct of their business. Then he spoke in more detail of the troubles of the farmer, discussing some of the relief measures production is the basic difficulty.

In a further presentation of the farmers' troubles A. C. Moffet of Waverly, vice-president of the Morgan-Scott county federation, gave figures showing the returns from 12 farms during the year 1922. The farms had a total acreage of 2271 and an approximate value of $400,000. The net return on these lands to the owners was less than 2 per cent. Too much credit and overproduction were given as some of the reasons at the bottom of present conditions.

W. M. Gish of Winchester, who is secretary of the two county association, spoke very briefly of the organization of the federation, voicing the thought that by closer contact the bankers will find that they can be mutually helpful. He was the final speaker and expressed appreciation for the splendid hospitality extended by the Jacksonville bankers.

During the evening an enjoyable musical program was furnished by the E. W. Brown orchestra. The arrangements for the successful event were in charge of a committee of which H. K. Chenoweth was chairman.

ATTENDED FUNERAL

A number of the relatives of Mrs. Richard Sullivan drove to Springfield yesterday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Sullivan and other members of the family group recently killed in the Twentieth Century train wreck. PROMINENT MAN OF MORGAN COUNTY DIES

William G. Rohrer Passed Away at Home in Waverly at Age of Eighty-nine Years—Funeral to Be Held Saturday Morning

William G. Rohrer, one of the best known residents of Morgan county, passed away at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at his home a few miles south of Waverly. Mr. Rohrer had been ill for only about a week but his condition had been regarded as serious from the first.

The deceased was 89 years of age last April and most of his long life was spent in the Waverly community. He was the last of five brothers, all of whom settled in the Waverly neighborhood in early days. The deceased brothers are Albert, John, Milton, and Wilbur Rohrer.

Mr. Rohrer is survived by the following children: W. H. Rohrer, who is cashier of the First National bank of Waverly; Oscar A. Rohrer, who resides on the home farm; and Mrs. Charles Curtis of Waverly. Two children, Mrs. Edward Christopher and Luther Rohrer preceded their father in death. Mrs. Rohrer's death occurred a number of years ago and in his declining years Mr. Rohrer made his home with his son, O. A. Rohrer.

The deceased was a member of Rohrer's chapel and was active in the affairs of the church as long as his health would permit. He was a man who had the admiration and respect of all who knew him and his long and useful life was one which made a distinct impression upon the community in which it was so largely spent.

The funeral will be held at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning from Rohrer's Chapel, in charge of the pastor, Rev. C. W. Andrews.

PICKPOCKETS TAUGHT BY MASTERS OF ART

Best Schools Are Said to Be in Poland and Hungary—Building Case Against Them Takes Time.

VIENNA. (AP)—The mental and physical make-up of that world-wide class of minor criminals, the pickpocket, has been set forth with convincing accuracy by the one man in Europe doubtless best qualified to do so, Dr. E. Lewisch, for 18 years chief of the pickpocket section of the Vienna police.

The chief was addressing the delegates to the international police congress. The pickpocket, he said, was essentially a nomad, a rover. He finds his prey on the street, in places of amusement, when an accident draws people together, in the cloakroom of a theater, in short, wherever there is a crowd. He may operate in Vienna today, and tomorrow be loitering about a city a hundred miles away. He must be ready to keep moving and give up any idea of a settled home. In Europe he must be a good linguist.

It is reasonably certain, Dr. Lewisch said, that these men are systematically trained in their work, and he believed the best schools are in Poland and Hungary. Beside strength and manual dexterity the pickpocket must have presence of mind, knowledge of men and a ready adaptability to cope with unexpected and dangerous situations. Unbounded effrontery, self-confidence, and a ready eloquence are important assets, and often help him to calm the agitation of his victim, avert suspicion, and even win the confidence and gratitude of the man he is robbing.

The successful pickpocket needs well-formed hands, strong and with long, narrow fingers. He must be able to seize a heavy purse with two fingers as with a pair of pincers, and extract it from a pocket by a quick and Buckwheat Cakes.

The winter breakfast is usually a hearty affair than the summer one of fruit and toast. Hot cakes, griddle cakes or pancakes offer a welcome change from toast and are universally popular.

Buckwheat is particularly a winter grain for it provides heat for the body. Freshly-ground, pure, unadulterated buckwheat should be used if possible.

A luncheon of buckwheat cakes and sausage is always a delicious change if hot cakes are not wanted for breakfast.

These rules for buckwheat cakes are good and offer a fair choice. Cakes made with yeast are perhaps more wholesome than those made by the "quick" method.

Yeast Buckwheat Cakes.

One-half compressed yeast cake, 1 cup lukewarm water, 3 more cups warm water, 4 cups buckwheat, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1½ teaspoons soda.

Soften yeast cake in the half cup of water. When thoroughly dissolved add the rest of the water, salt and buckwheat. Mix perfectly smooth. The batter should be so thick that it will just pour from one spoon. Cover and let stand in a warm place overnight. In the morning dissolve soda in a little warm water and beat in to batter. Let stand ten minutes and bake on a hot well greased griddle. The batter for baking should be thin and runny. Buckwheat cakes require a hotter griddle than corn meal or wheat cakes.

Some of the batter can be saved and used as a "starter" for another baking instead of using a fresh yeast cake.

Sour Milk Buckwheat Cakes.
Two cups buckwheat, 2 cups sour milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 egg.

Mix dry ingredients. Beat egg well and add milk and butter. Beat well. Let stand 10 minutes and bake on a hot well greased griddle. Sour milk batter should not be used as thin as yeast batter.

Sweet Milk Buckwheat Cakes

Two cups buckwheat, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 2½ cups milk.

Mix dry ingredients. Beat egg well. Add molasses, melted butter and milk. Add to dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Bake at once.

Crumb Buckwheat Cakes.

Two-thirds cup fine bread crumbs, 2 cups milk, 2 cups water, 1½ years cake, 1 tablespoon molasses, 4 cups buckwheat, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1½ teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon salt.

Sift milk and pour over bread crumbs. When lukewarm add yeast cake dissolved in lukewarm water. Add salt and buckwheat and beat until smooth. Cover and let stand in a warm place overnight. In the morning add molasses, melted butter and soda dissolved in a little warm water. Bake on a hot well greased griddle. Some of this batter can be saved for another baking.

Plans are almost perfected for the observance of the 90th birthday of the Congregational church in this city tomorrow evening. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend a supper at the church at 6:15 o'clock in the evening.

The committee in charge of the arrangements includes Dr. C. E. Black, chairman; Miss S. M. Fairbank and T. P. Carter. Merrill, superintendent of the Congregational churches of Illinois, will be one of the speakers of the evening. W. D. Wood is to present a history of the church during the ninety year period.

sure movement, or twist a watch ring out of its bearings with as easy a grace as if picking a flower from its stem.

In court the pickpocket denies passionately every charge brought against him. He admits absolutely nothing. He has a ready excuse to account for his presence in the city where he was caught. The stolen watch he will swear he picked up from the ground and as an honest finder he was about to carry it to the police station. Before the judge he will simulate deafness or ignorance of the language of the court. He will fight for time by asking questions on his own account, or pretend sickness or even insanity.

It takes time to build a good case against a pickpocket. Dr. Lewisch declared. He must be held while his record, often in other countries, is being looked up. He must be fingerprinted and photographed, and these evidences distributed to the police authorities all over Europe. And when he is found guilty, Dr. Lewisch concluded, give him a long sentence, preferably in the penitentiary.

LARGE HOMESTEAD GRANTS REPORTED

WASHINGTON. (A. P.)—Despite the rapidly decreasing area of the public domain homesteaders obtained patents to 6,309,329 acres in the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the General Land Office. Cash receipts from sales, leases and other disposition of public lands aggregated $10,700,000, of which five per cent was turned over to the states in which the land was situated.

Withdrawals of public lands for monuments, national forests and similar reservations totalled 1,692,548 acres, while 1,900,000 acres were "restored to entry." "The steady progress that is being made in vesting title in our Indian citizens," the report said, "is well represented in figures for the past year. Six thousand and ten trust patents were issued to Indians for an area of 446,690 acres, while 2,546 patents were issued in fee to Indians or their purchasers for an area of 288,939 acres.

"Since the issuance of the last annual report four national forests have been enlarged and 16 have been reduced; the gross area which has been added from the public domain during the fiscal year is 408,622 acres, and that acquired for forest reservation purposes under the act of March 1, 1911, aggregated 154,458 acres. There are now 146 national forests embracing 182,099 acres, of which a little over 86 per cent is public land."

DEMPSEY ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Jack Dempsey arrived in New York today ready to map out his 1924 plan of campaign. He and Jack Kearns, his manager, probably will confer with Tex Rickard with in a few days regarding a return match with Luis Firpo.

"All of the leading challengers are to be given their chance," said Dempsey. "Tom Gibbons, Harry Wells and Luis Firpo are the boys who seem most entitled to a crack at the crown and they'll get it."

"Jack came here to go to work," Kearns declared. "He has been offered a vaudeville tour, motion picture engagement, and an extended program of exhibitions in this section but we have not decided to accept."

LOST—Long gray silk glove. Call Klein, American manager for Erminio Capalla of Italy, European heavyweight champion, tonight announced he had cabled Spalla to come to America and that he expected the fighter to arrive by the third week in January.

Efforts are to be made this week, Klein announced, to interest Tex Rickard in promoting a bout between Spalla and Jack Dempsey, Wills, Gibbons or Tunney. Klein stated that Spalla had refused to meet Firpo in the Argentine.

OLD TRICKS SELDOM FAILS TO WORK

Football, like various other sports, has its tricks, odd and unique plays, used to outsmart the opposition. Every now and then some new ones crop out. Sometimes they are the direct means of winning a game.

For instance, consider the old protest play. A moss-covered affair to be sure. But often worked for many precious yards. The makeup of this play revolves around an argument started by the offensive team. It is put into action usually when in close proximity of the goal line or when a yard or two is needed to insure a first down.

Just before the snap-back, some of the players on the offensive platoon get into a verbal fight. The controversy grows more intense; it would become louder; the opposing faction looks on; it's dumfounded; it wonders what it's all about. And then—the ball is passed, and before the defensive team can gather itself together the man with the ball has plunged through for the required distance.

Michigan has worked this play to good advantage several times. Against Cornell, back in 1915, the Yostmen counted a touchdown by the use of it, and duplicated the feat in the Wisconsin game last season. Other aggregations have likewise gained by employing it.

At a meeting of the Illinois college football association held Wednesday Charles Hopper, full-back of the 1923 team, was chosen to lead the Blue and White gridiron warriors during the 1924 season. The newly elected captain had a record of two successful years on the Jacksonville High team before entering the college and made an unusually good record the past season in higher company being a very consistent performer at kicking goal.

It was also announced that various members of the past year's team would receive presents of sweaters at the end of the present semester provided that they continued to make satisfactory grades in other school work until that time. The list announced is given below:

GOLF FUNNY WHEN HUMORISTS BATTLE

This is a tale of the golf links. Ring Lardner, the humorist, was playing Nick Altrock, the comedian.

Nick, who has quite an edge on Lardner as a golfer, was leading by a comfortable margin when the two teed off at the twelfth green.

Altrock drove into a sand trap, much to the delight of Lardner. After Nick had wasted a couple of strokes trying to get out, spraying sand over the green, but no ball, Lardner was hoping he would require at least 7 or 8 more, when Lardner, who has a thorough knowledge of the part psychology plays in golf, glanced down the fairway and noticed three of four prominent players were following them. Calling them by name, Lardner remarked:

"Your reputation is ruined, Nick, when I tell them how many strokes you required to get out of the trap." Altrock was plainly perturbed. When a golfer is in trouble he is always asking advice. Nick was anxious to get out of the trap.

"What shall I do," asked Altrock.

"Better keep on digging and they'll think you're working down there," replied Lardner. Needless to say, the advice didn't help Altrock score. He took an 8.

Two Clubs Accept Draft With Slight Modification

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Restoration of the draft with a slight modification was accepted by two of the class AA leagues of the nation, the Pacific Coast league and the American association here today, acting independently of the International league which refused to consider the draft proposal.

The American association and the Pacific Coast league, under the new draft arrangement agree to accept surplus players from the major leagues under conditions that they will be eligible to the draft for a price of $5,000.

After an all day conference in which the representatives of the Pacific Coast league fought defiantly for an increased draft price of $10,000 the proposal was accepted.

Under the acceptance of the new plan the major league players, released to the clubs in these two leagues will be eligible to the draft, one player only to be drafted from each club. The players developed by the club will not be subject to the draft and will be eligible for sale.

Officials of the two leagues accepting the draft plan said their clubs would be benefited inasmuch as players with major league training would be available.

With the major league meeting out of the way the minor leagues had the stage to themselves today. The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues voted to hold their 1924 meeting in Hartford, Conn., and authorized an audit of the association's books.

The national association officials adopted a resolution providing no minor league manager shall accept a bonus in addition to his salary and that he will not be paid additional sums for the sale of players developed.

ILLINI SEE ROKUSEK AS GOOD LEADER

URBANA, Ill.—"Frank Rokusek will make Illinois an excellent captain. His leadership and intelligence and his popularity with students and teammates are strong assets. He knows his own position and a good deal about the others too."

That is Coach Bob Zuppke's terse way of describing the football captain-elect at the University of Illinois.

The news of Rokusek's election was received on the campus with satisfaction. "Rokoy," as he is known to his teammates, is a product of Omaha Technical high school, where he learned football under Jimmy Drumm, an old Dartmouth player. Frank was a three sport man earning 10 letters in football, basketball and baseball.

During his high school career Rokusek's team won the city football championship each season and was in the running for state honors one year but was nosed out in a post season game.

The new leader played on four state championship baseball teams at Technical and on one basketball team that "copped" state honors once and twice landed in second place.

At Illinois in 1922 "Rokoy" played his first college football and gave a good account of himself at left end. This season Rokusek was an outstanding member of the "fighting Illini" squad. He played a slashing defensive game and scarcely any yardage was registered against him, although he had to step some of the best backs in the conference.

The Omaha boy is equally good on offense. He goes down fast under kicks, is reliable receiver of forward passes, and his hard, unerring blocking was an important factor in Grange's long runs.

The new captain is a junior in the college of commerce. He believes in making an early application of the business principles taught there for he has established an agency that furnishes bread for most of the organized houses and "eat" shops on the campus. To partly work your way, play football and maintain your scholastic standing requires an exceptional man. Why did Rokusek come to Illinois, since he lives within a few miles of the University of Nebraska? He tells you: "Ever since I was a kid I had heard of Illinois and 'Zup'. I determined to cast my lot with them. So here I am. And I am mighty glad I did."

COWBOY SMITH GETS DECISION OVER GILL

URBANA, Ill., Dec. 13.—Warrior Smith, cowboy writer-weight, beat Jimmy Gill of Los-crosse, Wisconsin in a ten round fight here tonight. Smith led the fighting thru-out, loosing his right from all angles. Gill showed a clever defense but was unable to hurt Smith at any time.

Carl Furnas, former University of Illinois mat captain, wrestled a draw with August Seipp, local 160 pounder.

ROUT HIGH CAGERS WILL BATTLE ASHLAND

The Routt High quintet will have Ashland High for an opponent at Liberty hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the opening game for the locals. The announced lineup for Routt is: Forwards, March and Murphy; center, Norris; guards, Mallen and Cleary. The East Side boys have been doing some pretty strenuous work for several days and believe that they can make an interesting evening for the visitors.

UMPIRES FAIL TO AGREE WITH HIS HONOR, THE JUDGE

New York.—Major league umpires who were strong for Judge Landis prior to the playing of the recent world series have weakened on the commissioner.

Since the judge has made his living entirely in a judicial capacity, the umpires figured he would appreciate their position and back them up in any demands they made.

When it became evident that the 1923 series would play to better than a million-dollar gate it is understood the umpires called upon the judge and made a request that their pay be increased, so that their stipend would be more nearly on an equality with the player.

The arbitrators based their request for money on the fact that they were as necessary to the success of the series as the players. This the judge merely laughed at, according to report. He flatly refused the request and it is said told the umpires if they didn't like the pay, they needn't report; that he had men ready to step into their places in case they failed to show.

All of which has considerably peeved the umpires who make up the two major league stiffs.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Stock prices moved upward with increased vigor in today's market, the demand covering a large list but being most effective in the steels, sugars, motors, motor accessories and tobaccos. Baring was influenced by another series of higher dividend announcements and favorable trade advices including another sharp drop in crude oil production, higher crude prices in Central Texas and the increased inquiry for steel products.

Rails failed to keep pace with the industrials altho the northwestern issue, which were sharply depressed following the outlet of the Chicago & Northwestern dividend, made further recovery on the declaration of the regular payments by Northern Pacific and Great Northern, the former closing 1½ points higher and the latter gaining about a point.

Reintroduction of the soldier bonus measure in the house brought about some profit-taking in the late dealings, the net gains in the active issues ranging from small fractions to nearly six points. New high records were established by Willys-Overland common and preferred and corn products.

United States liberty bonds were quiet, the tax exempt 3½s touching par for the first time in four weeks.

WHITE HALL'S WATER SUPPLY IS ADEQUATE

Twenty-Four Inches of Water Added by Rain of Wednesday and Wednesday Night.

White Hall, Dec. 13.—Most convincing argument as to the value of the watershed of the municipal reservoir at White Hall comes with the rain of Wednesday and Wednesday night, when there was a total fall of 1.92 inches. It came at a time when the ground was pretty well soaked, and the net result has been twenty-four inches of water added to the stage from 8 a. m. Wednesday to 8 a. m. Thursday. This is the biggest gain since the depletion of the reservoir supply that began to take place early in the spring to a noticeable extent, when a leak in the spillway helped along with the exhaustion of the supply to the dangerous stage that was checked by the arrangement with the Roodhouse city authorities.

On December 1st all restrictions as to the use of water were removed by Water Superintendent Fry, and this latest gain was recorded in face of normal consumption, including the Burlington railroad. Not only has the leak been thoroughly overcome, but an added precaution has been taken by erecting a dam in front of the spillway for fifteen feet with teams. L. R. Winn, chairman of the water committee, regards this as an exceptionally fine piece of work, and the committee also regards the work of riprapping done on the Roodhouse reservoir dam by White Hall as excellent.

The matter of raising the reservoir dam or providing an auxiliary reservoir on the Vantyle place to the north are matters for solution, either of which are favored by Mayor Roodhouse. The dam-raising program is especially advocated by Louis Lowenstein, the veteran reclamation man of the Illinois valley, but he also advocates permanent arrangements with Roodhouse, while at the same time viewing the Vantyle project with favor.

ENJOYED STAG PARTY
The members of Carpenters Union No. 904 enjoyed a delightful stag party at Woodman Hall Thursday night, the evening being taken up with an oyster supper, smokes, and a general social time, including cards. A good crowd was present to enjoy not only the oyster spread but also the social time which followed.

THE REFEREE

By Albert Apple

Short-Cut

A New York brokerage house pays $750,000 a year for its telephone service. You can imagine the infinite amount of "running about" that would be necessary if messenger boys had to do the work performed by these brokers' phones. In fact, it would be a physical impossibility to conduct their business without phones.

Yet many now living can recall when the telephone was not as widely used as the airplane is today. The time is coming, and not far off, when people will say: "How did they ever get along without airplanes? Why, we simply couldn't live without them."

Unexpected

We're increasingly impressed by the number of people that die suddenly just when they are expecting to do things for which they had planned a long time. Patrick J. Bronner of Boston told getting his business in shape so he could spend the winter in Florida. His trunks were packed. He died a few hours before train time.

Life is 90 percent anticipation. The other 10 percent is divided between realization and unexpected collapse of plans. Goals are rarely reached. But the journeys toward the goals are what really count, after all.

Gum

It's disclosed in Chicago court that the Wrigley people have spent seven million dollars advertising. Doublemint, which is only one of their several chewing gums.

Business men who are timid about advertising should look at that figure twice, then ponder the sale of Wrigley gums.

Youth

The greatest radio fans are people between 20 and 30. This is shown by a census taken by a leading radio publication. The 20-30 age might naturally be expected. After 30, youth is largely gone and people begin looking backward over their shoulders as they move ahead, and are less interested in new things.

Dance music led the popularity list among radio fans. Radio still is in the toy stage. Later it will be more utility, less toy.

Enemies

A Hungarian seer, famed throughout Europe for his prophecies, announces he has "tuned in" with the beyond and learned that France and Germany will be amiable chums in 15 years. This is encouraging, considering that they have been at daggers' points since Charlemagne's heirs, 1000 years ago, began quarreling over the division of the old man's estate, which included most of continental Europe.

The United States of Europe, advocated by H. G. Wells, seems more sensible every day. Racial hatreds. The various European nationalities get along peaceably together in America.

"A real Christmas treat!"

"This year we're going to have a good old fashioned Christmas—the kind we used to have when I was a girl—lots of good cheer and fun, and to top it all, a fine dinner with plenty of good, hot, home made rolls, mince pies and Christmas cakes.

"Everything's got to be just the best ever, so of course I'll use Enterprise Flour for the baking. Good flour may be scarce this year because good, strong wheat is scarce, but I know I can depend on Enterprise. I've learned that from experience. Enterprise is always milled from the very finest strong wheat—and only the best part of the grain at that. With the help of Enterprise I'm going to give my family a real treat this Christmas—and I'm going to get my hand in right now."
